U. OF VA. FUND NOW UNDER WAY

FIFTEEN VIRGINIA DISTRICTS REPORT TO RAISE QUOTAS.

OTHER STATES BUSY

Director Dobie Stresses Five-Year Payment Period—To Accept Securities.

The University of Virginia opened its nation-wide Centennial Endowment Fund on March 7 of this week with approximately one-eighth of the alumni body enrolled for service. In Virginia, nearly 500 men were active as canvassers and team captains.

Executive Director Armistead M. Dobie received preliminary reports from each of the fifteen Virginia regional chairmen that canvassing teams were off to a flying start in an effort to pile up the Old Dominion's quota of $1,315,000 toward the $3,000,000 birthday gift. Reports were also received from the twenty-seven districts outside of the State that work was under way. Several chairmen said that non-alumni were successfully co-operating with graduates and former Virginia students.

Mass meetings, dinners and informal gatherings were held on the evening of March 7, and many workers, after signing their own personal pledges, started out immediately to visit selected lists of prospective donors.

Mr. Dobie made it clear that while the first intensive period of canvassing will end on March 19th, he expects every team member to devote a minimum of one hour's work daily between that date and April 4, when the second, and last, of the two "high pressure" periods begins. May 1 to 31 will witness a thorough canvass for the University in this State.

In last day conferences with chairmen, the executive director urged all to emphasize the fact that pledges may be paid during the next five years.

"A man may not have sufficient ready cash to make a substantial contribution to the University during 1921," he said, "and four additional years will be allowed to meet the obligation. Payments may be made annually or semi-annually. Liberty bonds will be accepted at their par value; other securities at their market value.

"Under the Hollis Amendment to the federal income tax law, fifteen per cent of a man's net income may be given tax free to an educational institution. Thus, a $750 gift from a married man earning $5,000 would reduce his taxable income from $3,000 to $2,250."

The cost of education is reflected in a statistical table furnished team members. This table gives the following quotations: $250,000 will build a dormitory; $100,000 will endow a professorship; $70,000 will endow an associate professorship; $40,000 will endow an adjunct professorship; $10,000 will equip a laboratory; $5,000 will endow a scholarship; $1,000 will maintain a student loan fund and $500 will care for the body of a youth for a year.

Jefferson's Aim.

Jefferson sought to create in the university of the state an institution that would not only through traditional culture values give to the state "legislators and judges . . . and expound . . . structure of government," but would also "harmonize and promote the interests of agriculture, manufacture and commerce, and by well-formed views of political economy give free course to public industry."—Edward Kidder Graham.

THE "OLD RELIABLE" THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

White Haired Alabama Lady Says She Has Seen Medicines Come and Go But The "Old Reliable" Thedford's Black-Draught Came and Stayed.

Dutton, Ala.—In recommending Thedford's Black-Draught to her friends and neighbors here, Mrs. T. F. Parks, a well-known Jackson County lady, said: "I am getting up in years; my head is pretty white. I have seen medicines and remedies come and go but the old reliable came and stayed. I am talking of Black-Draught, a liver medicine we have used for years—one that can be depended upon and one that will do the work.

"Black-Draught will relieve indigestion and constipation if taken right, and I know for I tried it. It is the best thing I have ever found for the full, uncomfortable feeling after meals. Sour stomach and sick headache can be relieved by taking Black-Draught. It aids digestion, also ssists the liver in throwing off impurities. I am glad to recommend Black-Draught, and do, to my friends and neighbors."

Thedford's Black-Draught is a standard household remedy with a record of over seventy years of successful use. Every one occasionally needs something to help cleanse the system of impurities. Try Black-Draught. Insist upon Thedford's, the genuine.
